LET OUR TRUSTED EXPERIENCE HELP YOU OPTIMIZE YOUR SYSTEM

New West's expertise is Perioperative Systems and Solutions. We offer trusted services in the surgical arena, healthcare IT consulting, project management, change and supply side management. We partner with our clients to improve information services, workflow process improvements and clinical information systems such as anesthesia. We provide experience you can trust – just ask our clients.

We partner with all major perioperative software vendors to provide the best practice in perioperative software solutions.

OUR SERVICES

A positive Return on Investment (ROI) is one of the most powerful reasons to fully implement your Perioperative system. In order to obtain the management reports you need on case costing, comparing procedure costs by physician, and accurate charge costing, your system needs your inventory management module up and accurately running. You need these cost reports in addition to your routine management reports such as block time utilization and OR minutes.

Is it time to evaluate the modules you purchased against the modules you use?

New West Consulting assists you in optimizing your Perioperative Software through complete implementation of your modules. We specialize in the Perioperative Software arena, from PAT through PACU, including Anesthesia.

Are you in the process of:

Upgrading your system to the latest release?

Beginning an inventory or supply chain management project?

Changing systems?

Implementing in-room charting for clinical documentation?

Interfacing or integrating your Perioperative system to Materials Management, or another system?

Whether you need to use outside resources to manage your project or augment your current resources for a specific need, such as data building, New West Consulting is your solution in the Perioperative Systems setting. Our expertise saves you time and money; things that are in short supply in your environment.
